Imagine a company that makes all the performance just for the fun of it, and it's happening at the very core - it's coming from the people within. Imagine a company, where priorities are: “it has to be fun” or “let's make it better”. And we are “crazy” enough to put these priorities in the front and financial goals - in the second or third row. Imagine a company that encourages people to think freely, to state their ideas and to make it happen and ask them to argue and prove their points to. Imagine a company where everybody is in one or other way involved into management and strategic planning and is asked to put their input to create better place to work. Imagine company where meetings are hours filled with jokes and laughs. Imagine responsible company that cares - we do think about needs of people who have less luck then others and we do a lot about it. That's us, guys. And we are not even halfway where we want to be.
It's all about vision, people, art and paper. It's all about market, all about Your needs.
It's all about better environment both outside and inside the company.

SM·LT

Now you might think, that our work is fairy-tale, that we have bunnies and unicorns running loose in the office where everybody is happy, full of love and euphoria, our work is performed by accurate gnomes and easy handed elves and we are quietly sitting on the clouds. Well… nope.
In fact, it's extremely hard work and all our “miracles” are born from sweat, blood and tears.
We are overloaded with ideas that we want to make happen, and there are days when we have problems.
It's real life and we are a team of very different people tied together by common goals. We are far from perfect.
We do mistakes and we do struggle with our decisions and consequences. We do have to make allowances and go to compromises, because there are limits. We are small company with limited resources but with BIG ideas!
But this makes us better, more focused and more creative. And we believe that You will feel it in our products.
